

ANGEL Lamb

Angel Lamb came from the hills of McRoberts, Kentucky before making her way to Akron, Ohio in 1987. There, her family was blessed with very humble beginnings while residing at the Harvest Home; a shelter for women and children. Angel went on to graduate from John R. Buchtel high school in 2002, where she simultaneously obtained her post-secondary certificate in Business Administration before pursuing Marketing and Voice at the University of Akron.

While working as a full-time college student, Angel took on a hospitality position at a local hotel to support herself and her infant daughter. Two years later, she decided to embark on an entrepreneurial path where she could take care of her family without sacrificing her presence. After twelve years of serving as a Cosmetologist and Massage Therapist, Angel returned to the same place she started 14 years earlier in hospitality.

Completely unaware of the blessings that were in store, she took great pride in providing excellent service to all.

Over the course of the next six years, Angel received five promotions. She is now serving as a RISE GM Apprenticeship Mentor and General Manager with Aimbridge Hospitality. Including five years of dual brand management experience with both Hilton and Marriott properties. Angel attributes her growth to her love for God and people. It is her belief that success is not measured by the places we've been, but rather the human beings we've helped to elevate along the way.
